

France Hit Hard by Loss; Laniel Rule in Danger

17 Companies Captured by Rebels; Military Vows to Keep Up Its Indochina Fight

Paris, May 8 (AP)—France was plunged into gloom today by her shattering defeat at Dien Bien Phu but the military vowed to keep battling the Communist-led foe in Indochina.

The loss of the bastion and its thousands of defenders on the eve of Indochina negotiations in Geneva raised speculation that Premier Joseph Laniel's government might fall.

In Saigon, Gen. Henri Navarre, commander of French forces in Indochina, issued a terse order of the day saying "the fight continues" despite the serious setback.

The Red leaders of the Vietnamese war are resounding military and political victory in the savage 20-hour battle that engulfed the fortress. A rebel broadcast monitored in Hong Kong claimed the "commander of Dien Bien Phu" and about 17 companies of French troops fell into Vietnamese hands when the last defenses craved in.

The radio did not name Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, but the reference to "commander" indicated the heroic leader had survived.

No Word of Nurse
The broadcast gave no word as to the fate of pretty 22-year-old Genevieve De Galant, Terraine, French Air Force nurse who had been trapped in Dien Bien Phu since March.

The Communist radio in Peiping claimed the attacking masses annihilated almost 2,000 French troops who tried to break out of "Isabelle," an outpost three miles south of De Castries' headquarters.

It was not known what happened to the hundreds of wounded lying in dark dugouts in the heart of the fortress. The Communists had turned a deaf ear to French pleas for a temporary truce to evacuate the casualties by air.

The French delegation to Geneva formally accused the Communists of stalling on Indochina negotiations until Dien Bien Phu could be seized.

Laniel Is Boomed
In Paris, Premier Laniel and Defense Minister Rene Pleven were boomed and hissed when they showed up at ceremonies celebrating the German defeat in World War 2.

The burning issue of France's Indochina policy is expected to come before the National Assembly again next week. With deputies already demanding the scalps of those responsible for the worst defeat in seven years of Indochina warfare, the debate easily could result in a new government upset.

News of Dien Bien Phu's collapse had been expected almost daily since fighting for the north Indochina fortress began two months ago. But the headlines, when they came, struck a hard blow at French morale and increased demands for peace—at almost any price.

Policeman Acquitted

New York, May 8 (AP)—A Kings county jury early today acquitted a Brooklyn policeman accused of shooting and killing a man while searching his apartment for a missing service revolver. Attorney Stanley E. Davis was cleared of the charges after his second trial. His first trial ended in a conviction and sentence of 8 to 15 years in prison, but the verdict was later reversed by the Appellate Division and a new trial ordered. Davis had been accused of shooting Arthur Battle, 36, when the policeman and two off-duty patrolmen searched Battle's apartment for the revolver. The weapon was never found.

Conditions Improve

The conditions of three Saugerties men injured in a fatal accident early Friday morning on Route 9W were reported to be much improved at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie, today. The three hospitalized men are Arthur Krause, 49; Alfred Iannone and Gerald Overbaugh. The hospital report indicated, however, that the three would remain at the hospital for further observation. Another Saugerties man, Charles Vermilyea, 24, died at the hospital later Friday morning of what Coroner Francis J. McCordle of this city said was a fractured skull.

Red Exits Shut

Melbourne, Australia, May 8 (AP)—The government today shut all exits from Australia for any known Communists pending the results of its investigation into the Petrov papers. Immigration Minister Harold Holt said "We do not propose to provide travel facilities for Communists who might want to hide in Iron Curtain countries." Beginning May 17, a royal commission will check into the details of Communist espionage in Australia as revealed in papers turned over by Vladimir Petrov, the Russian diplomat who obtained asylum here.

156th Arranges Events For Armed Forces Week

Several special events commemorating Armed Forces Week, May 9-15, in Kingston have been arranged by the 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard, according to an announcement made today.

Approximately 250 Guardsmen from the local Battalion will take part in the exercises scheduled to be held in various sections of the city next week.

Armed Forces Day is actually celebrated Saturday, May 15, but the special events have been carried over for exhibition on Monday and Tuesday night, May 10 and 11, the announcement said.

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today issued the following proclamation for Armed Forces Week: "Armed Forces Day has become the traditional occasion when the nation expresses its pride and faith in the men and women of the military services whose task is keeping our country secure against all enemies—and provides the Armed Forces a fitting opportunity to demonstrate to the American people how well they merit this pride and faith, and serves to emphasize the Power for Peace which has developed through unity of effort and unity of purpose."

One of the special events scheduled will be a military road block planned on Albany avenue near the city line Monday, May 10, starting at 8 p. m., lasting about an hour.

The same evening Battery A will conduct a field display on the Academy Green and also will play host to an open house at the New York State Armory, Manor avenue. Meanwhile, the Medical Detachment will hold a demonstration on the Court House lawn, Wall street.

Headquarters Battery will have a complete display of military equipment of its organization on the National Guard Armory grounds Tuesday night starting at 8 o'clock in addition to the unit's open house. All exhibits will be open to the public and National Guard officials request the public to attend.

Dirksen Will Ask Showdown To End McCarthy-Army Probe

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he will ask the Senate Investigations Subcommittee for a showdown vote Monday on "a concrete proposal which, if adopted, should end the McCarthy-Army hearings very soon."

Although Dirksen declined to supply any details in an interview, GOP members of the inquiry group canvassed with Republican policy committee members at a secret meeting last night the prospects of limiting further testimony in the spectacular probe primarily to Sen. McCarthy (R-Ill.) and Secretary of the Army Stevens.

Jaycees Sponsor City Flag Drive

A campaign to "further American principles and ideas by putting a flag in every home in Kingston" will be launched next week by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees will have a No. 51 Valley Forge American Flag for sale at $3 each. The flag measures three feet by five and is accompanied with a six-foot jointed pole.

Proceeds of the sale would be used by the Junior Chamber to present flags to new Scout troops, sponsor Voice of Democracy contests or in other ways designed to "further American ideas."

The drive will include newspaper advertisement, sale of flags at local Teen-age Road-e-o and other Jaycee functions and the location of special displays throughout the city with boxes where interested persons can deposit their names and addresses.

Started by Coast Man

The inspiration for the current drive which is reported to be sweeping the country originated with a 40-year-old Glendale, Calif., mailman, John Wymer, who is general chairman of the Display the Flag drive of the Glendale branch of the National Association of Letter Carriers. Victor Bargar of 25 Green street is chairman of the Americanism committee of the Kingston Jaycees. He is assisted by Robert Stedje of 361 Albany avenue and Stanley Dempsey of 147 Albany avenue.

Rhee Blames France For Refusing Help

Seoul, May 8 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee declared today that the Indochina fortress of Dien Bien Phu might not have fallen to the Communists "had offers of outside assistance three months ago been accepted."

Rhee apparently referred to his offer to send one or two ROK divisions to help fight the Reds in Indochina. The offer was not accepted by the French.

"This tragedy has occurred while the futile talking continues at Geneva," Rhee declared. "We deceive ourselves by saying we are winning. Are we going to continue to win in this manner until the Communists gain everything . . . ?"

Seven Are Injured As Harnen's Foot Slips Off Brake

Police Report Car Plows Into One Ahead at Underpass; Four Autos Damaged

Seven persons claimed minor injuries yesterday afternoon when a driver's foot slipped from his brake and struck the accelerator, causing four cars to bang together end-to-end on Broadway near the underpass, according to police.

Investigating officers said William F. Harnen, 31, of 67 Prospect street, told them his foot slipped off the brake and hit the gas pedal. Harnen's car was so badly damaged in the front end it had to be towed away.

Cars Involved

The cars, all traveling north on Broadway, were a 1953 sedan operated by Constantine Eighmy Krom, 23, of 149 Prospect street; a 1949 sedan operated by Mrs. Robert Schaller of 10 Hemlock street; a 1950 sedan operated by Carl Eckert, 51, of 110 Franklin street, and the Harnen vehicle.

Police said the Harnen car struck the Eckert sedan forcing it into the car operated by Mrs. Schaller. Mrs. Schaller's car was, in turn, forced into the Krom vehicle.

List of Injured

Officers Meyer Levy, William Slover and Bernard J. Fowler of the Kingston Police Department, assisted by Deputy Carl Cline of the Ulster County Sheriff's office, reported the following claimed injuries: Constantine Krom, back, neck and chest; Mrs. Velma Krom, 43, of 149 Prospect street, neck pains; Judith Raymond, 7, of 11 East St. James street, neck pains; Mrs. Schaller, neck; Eckert, neck, ribs and legs; Harnen, cuts on forehead and hands. Mrs. Velma Krom, Mrs. Raymond and Judith Raymond were all passengers in the Krom car.

The Krom car received damages to the rear bumper and bumper guard. The entire back end of Mrs. Schaller's car, the front and rear ends of the Eckert vehicle and the entire front end of the Harnen car were heavily damaged.

Entries Reported In State Road-e-o

Thirty-nine communities have entered the New York State Teen-age Road-e-o which will culminate in the finals at municipal stadium in Kingston on July 11.

Local contests are now being held throughout the state to choose finalists. Kingston will hold its local Road-e-o on Sunday, May 23.

To be eligible the driver must be under 20 as of August 10, 1954, must possess a driver's license or learner's permit and must not be guilty of a moving traffic violation in the preceding six months. Purpose of the contest is to promote better driving practices among teen-agers through driving tests, motor quizzes and actual road checks.

A total of $3,100 in scholarships is being offered. Winners from each state will be sent, expenses paid, to Washington, D.C., where they will compete in the National Road-e-o on August 10-14.

But Sen. McClellan (Ark.), senior subcommittee Democrat, served notice that there is likely to be Democratic opposition to any sudden narrowing of the hearings which have brought Stevens to the witness stand on each of 12 days to reiterate charges against McCarthy and defend himself from the Wisconsin Senator's counter accusations.

Stevens testified yesterday in an abbreviated hearing that McCarthy and his aides subjected him to "exceedingly serious" threats in an effort to get preferential army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former McCarthy investigative consultant.

McCarthy called for a word-by-word recounting of the threats while pushing his contention that Stevens and others were using Schine in an effort to halt McCarthy's Communist investigations at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

These are the principal charges and counter-charges—each denied by the other side—which the subcommittee is investigating.

With Stevens ordered back to the stand when hearings resume Monday, McClellan said that he doesn't see "how the committee in good conscience can deny any principal the right to testify."

Along with McCarthy, Roy M. Cohn, his chief counsel, and Francis Carr, his chief of staff, have been named as principals. Besides Stevens, principals on the other side are Army counselor John G. Adams and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense. Only Stevens has been questioned at any length so far.

McCarthy said before leaving for weekend speeches in Wisconsin (Continued on Page 7, Col. 7)

Harvey S. Kolts To Quit Business

Will Give Up Electrical Firm After 17 Years Supplying Valley

Harvey S. Kolts, owner of Kolts Electric Supply Company, 25 Grand street, has announced he'll retire from the business he started 17 years ago.

He plans to liquidate the stock and to lease the building which he owns.

Kolts was born in Kingston and has been active in business in this city all his life. As a young man he was with Canfield Supply Company, where he started the electrical department of which he was manager and vice president for many years.

In 1937 he started his own Kolts Electric Supply Company with wholesale and industrial distribution serving the entire Hudson valley.

Pachler Takes Command

Berlin May 8 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Francis R. Pachler of Thornwood, N. Y., took over today as commanding general of the U. S. Berlin command. Pachler came to Berlin from the National War College at Ft. McNair, Washington, D. C., where he was a member of the staff and faculty. He succeeds Brig. Gen. Charles F. Craig who departed recently for a new assignment with the Far East Command. Pachler's wife, Fay, and their three children will join him in Berlin in the near future, an army announcement said.

Robbed of $700

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Police said the wife of a Russian embassy official last night was robbed of her purse containing $700 in 20 dollar bills. Detective Sgt. Mark Gray said Mme. Konstantin Fedoseev, 45, wife of the embassy counselor, reported a youth snatched the purse on a northwest side street while she was on her way to a grocery store.

Red China Aid, New Big Victory By Rebels Is Reason

Indochina Peace Talks Will Begin In Geneva Today

Communists Are Expected to Propose Quick Expansion of Participants

Geneva, May 8 (AP)—The east and west agreed today to begin the Indochina peace talks here at 4:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. EST).

The nine participating delegations were notified after an agreement had been reached between British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov.

The delegations taking part were the four big powers, Red China, Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Communist-led Vietnam. The Communists were expected to propose immediately the expansion of the parley to include several other Asian countries, including India, Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines.

A Big Three plan for a cease-fire line in Indochina was reported to be under consideration in Geneva and Washington, but indications were that no firm decision had been reached.

Red Losses Enormous
The American position on the fall of Dien Bien Phu was said to be that a battle has been lost but not a war. The losses to the Communists were reported officially to have been enormous.

British, American and French representatives were in touch with the Communist diplomats on procedural questions. A British source said if the talks were scheduled for this afternoon, they would not begin before 3 p. m. (10 a. m. EST).

As this is primarily a French matter, the Americans and the British were letting their ally handle negotiations on getting the meeting started.

But by early afternoon, the time still had not been decided for the first session of much-awaited talks on peace for Indochina.

All the major procedural questions apparently have been agreed upon, British Foreign Minister (Continued on Page 7, Col. 4)

Dien Bien Phu Is Called Victory for Two Red Nations

Hanoi, Indochina, May 8 (AP)—The French union fortress of Dien Bien Phu fell last night under overwhelming tidal waves of attacking Vietnamese rebels after 56 days of heroic resistance.

Victory for the rebels was reported by reliable sources due to war aid from Red China and a new Russian weapon that fires 25 to 30 rockets one after the other.

The Communist-led enemy led six to one, crushed the heart of the trench and barbed wire bastion in northwest Indochina in savage hand-to-hand fighting.

The defenders, Frenchmen, Foreign Legionnaires, Moors and loyal Vietnamese—fought on even after they had run out of ammunition, until they were completely overrun.

The French high command released the first news of the fall of the fortress at 9 a. m. today, Hanoi time (8 p. m. EST yesterday).

The high command deliberately suppressed all news of one of the biggest stories of the year for many hours after it had been known throughout the rest of the world.

Not a single line of news about Dien Bien Phu and its fall was allowed to be sent from Hanoi all through Friday. Nothing had been sent up to 9 a. m. Saturday.

When newsmen finally were permitted to send out their stories, they found the Vietnamese communications hopelessly jammed with tens of thousands of words to be moved by Morse telegraph operators. Some of the copy may be several days in clearing.

Radio Cut Off
The latest report the command gave out was that the isolated stronghold "Isabelle," three miles to the south of the main fortress complex, still was holding out at dawn but all radio communications had been cut off.

(Radio Peiping, the Red China station, said the outpost had fallen and 2,000 men of its garrison tried to break out were annihilated.)

stock market continued its drive ahead this week with only slight hesitancy.

Periodic pauses in the upward movement of the list constituted what brokers called a consolidation of recent marked gains.

Right now the market on average stands at the highest levels of the past 24 years.

With the general business outlook brighter than for many weeks past, brokers feel there is nothing in sight to block the upward path of the market except wars and threats of wars.

The market has been forging ahead for nearly eight months. Upon occasion, there has been a setback that might be termed a reaction. These have all been mild.

Many brokers would like to see more pronounced reactions on the theory that they would clear the air in an emphatic manner for a sustained drive ahead. However, it is felt that the market with its own action has demonstrated that it can keep going up with short periods of rest to consolidate its gains.

This week, as in past weeks, there has been a great amount of selectivity, the buying and selling of stock on the basis of corporate or industry developments.

The railroads, which got rolling last week, continued their progress this week and provided solid ground for the market's upward swing.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 1.6 per cent on the week whereas the railroad component of the average gained 3.4 per cent.

To show the relative level of the market, the AP average advanced $1.90 on the week and closed at $123.60, a new high for the year and the best level for the average since April 17, 1930. The average failed to make a new high for the year on only one day this week.

To get back to the railroads, they were favored on a technical basis because their start ahead last week convinced many that the time had come for them to rally to keep pace with the high-riding industrials. The rails satisfied everyone but the bears by ahead this week with only slight hesitancy.

Some brokers mentioned another prop for the rails. Increased aid to the French in their fight against the Communists in Indochina would likely have to move to the west coast by rail for shipment to the battlefield, they reasoned.

No War Ripples
The tragic fall of the French bastion at Dien Bien Phu, however, didn't cause a ripple in the stock market.

Actual operating results of class one railroads in the first quarter showed steep declines. Net income of these major carriers dropped 52 per cent in the first three months this year as compared with 1953.

The look into the future for one business after another had bright promise, nevertheless, or so it was felt by traders and investors in the stock market.

Chrysler was a case in point. Its first quarter earnings were down sharply, but directors declared the usual dividend. The price of the stock shot ahead, a vote of confidence by buyers in the (Continued on Page 7, Col. 6)

To Attend Annual ACWA Convention

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, CIO, will celebrate its 40th anniversary at its annual convention beginning Monday in Atlantic City, N. J.

Harry Wetmore, president, and Josephine Parenti, secretary, of Local 384, Middletown, will also attend. Ethel Smith is alternate delegate from that local.

Eisenhower Messages France Free World Will Stand Behind Her Asia Cause

Washington, May 8 (AP)—President Eisenhower met with his top strategy advisers for an hour and a half today in an unusual Saturday session and presumably a major topic was what the United States should do about the Indochina crisis.

Those who were called to the White House, members of the National Security Council, left by back doors and the President's office made no announcement of what decisions, if any, were reached.

Secretary of State Dulles laid down basic points of the administration attitude last night. It is considering defense commitments which "might involve the use of armed force" but under "present conditions" the United States has no intention of sending fighting men to Indochina.

Those at Conference

Those attending the White House conference included Vice President Nixon; Secretary of State Dulles; Secretary of Defense Wilson; Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff; Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency; William M. Hand, acting director of the foreign operations administration; and Arthur S. Flemming, defense mobilization director.

Dulles spoke in a nationwide broadcast last night a few hours after news of the fall of Dien Bien Phu reached Washington.

Word that Communist besiegers had finally overrun the Indochina fortress brought calls from a number of U. S. leaders for new efforts toward united action against Red aggression in southeast Asia.

Sacrifice Not in Vain

President Eisenhower messaged President Rene Coty of France that "Dien Bien Phu defenders should know 'that no sacrifice of theirs has been in vain; that the free world will remain faithful to the causes for which they have so nobly fought.'"

He sent similar word to the Viet Nam chief of state, Bao Dai, in whose land lies the fallen fortress.

Eisenhower summoned a special meeting of the National Security Council today for a purpose not announced, but virtually certain to include discussion of Indochina. The council is the nation's top strategy body.

Dulles, a Security Council member, used an informal "fireside chat" approach to his television and radio audience last night, making small changes in his prepared text as he went along but not altering the general tenor of his talk.

Free World Must Be United

He expressed confidence that discussions now under way with 10 friendly nations—Britain and France among them—on the defense of southeast Asia will result in a free world coalition that will rock Communist aggression there. But he cautioned: "This common defense may involve serious commitments by us all. But free people will never remain free unless they are willing to fight for their vital interests."

Approval Needed

So far as the United States is concerned, Dulles said that entering into such commitment is possible only on two conditions: 1. Congressional approval would have to be given. Congress, he said, "is a full partner" with the administration in any such enterprise.

2. Other free nations would have to join the pledge and share the burden. In Dulles' words, there would have to be an adequate collective effort based on genuine mutuality of purpose in defending vital interests."

Dulles made a distinction between the long range problem of securing southeast Asia generally (Continued on Page 7, Col. 4)

Mt. Marion

Mt. Marion, May 8—Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson of Windgap, Pa., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Haussler.

Mrs. John Lynker of New York spent several days last week with Mrs. Mabel Briggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Scheu and family spent Tuesday in Pittsfield, Mass.

Mrs. Joseph Pehuso of Brooklyn was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Doran.

Louis Preuss of Staten Island has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Jobst.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wozeky of New York moved into their new home here May 1.

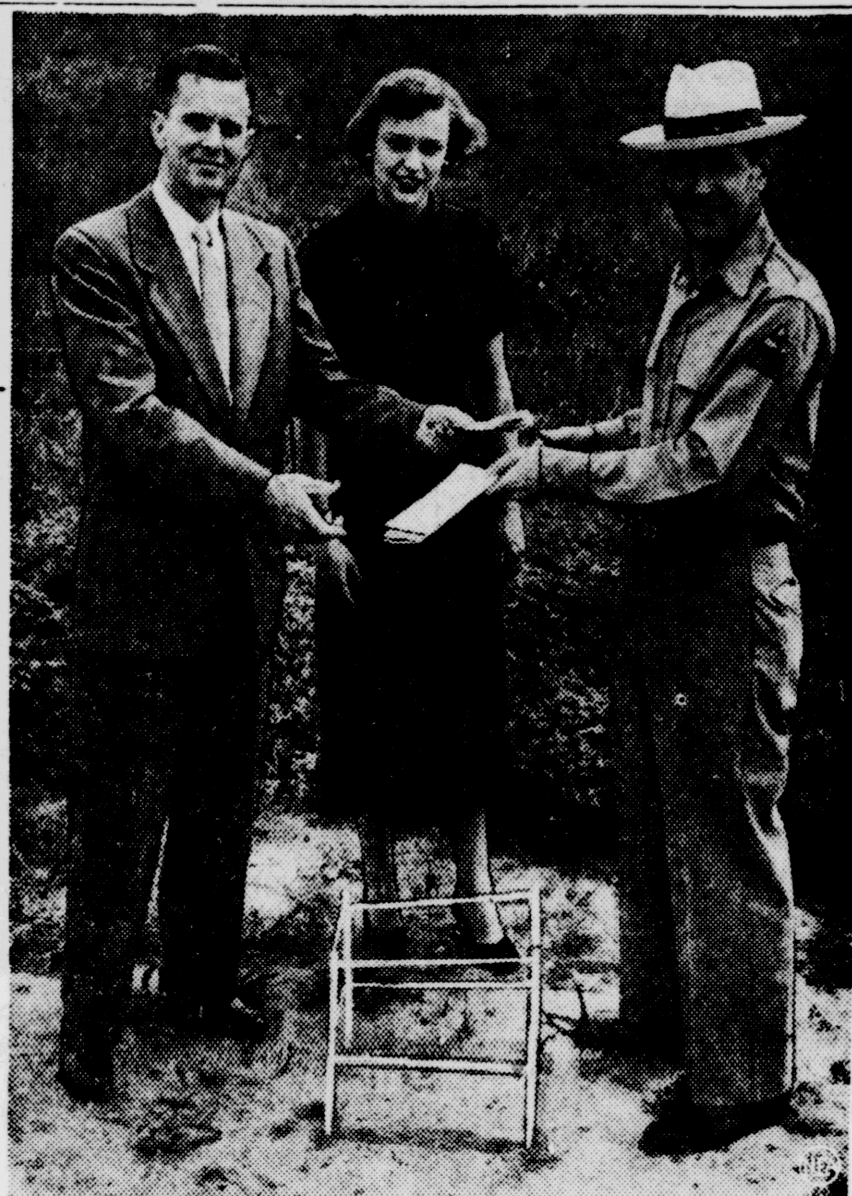

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schuler of Jackson Heights spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Brink.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hunter of Freeport, L. I., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Laurie, born May 2.

Mrs. Hunter is the former Margaret Myer of Mt. Marion.

Terwilliger Bankrupt

New York, May 8 (Special)—A petition in bankruptcy was filed Thursday in the United States District Court here by Alfred E. Terwilliger of 251 Washington avenue, Kingston, formerly a farmer in Cottekill. He lists debts totaling $5,865, of which $3,050 is in secured claims against him. His assets amount to $2,795 and insurance. The $3,050 claim is held by the Department of Agriculture. Harry Snyder of Cottekill is owed $2,814.

EXPENSIVE ACREAGE—T. H. Tanner, left, of Kalamazoo, Mich., hands $4 to T. H. Ellis, and receives the deed for a foot-square "ranch" in Hunt County, Tex. At that rate an acre would cost $160,000. Immediately after the transaction, Tanner erected fence posts, covered with barbed wire, around the property. He bought the ranch to pay off a bet with a friend back home. Looking on is Tanner's daughter, Billy Jo.

Sewage Problems Topic of Booklet

Getting rid of 200 gallons of sewage and dirty water each day is a critical home sanitation problem for the average family, according to a booklet, "What You Should Know About Plumbing Drainage."

Although drainage of wastes from the home is taken for granted by many people, the publication points out how easily sewage plumbing failures can happen. Such occurrences endanger the family health and disrupt its daily living routine.

The pocket-sized booklet is published by the Cast Iron Soil Pipe Institute, Washington, D. C. It is available without charge.

The booklet contains helpful information to prevent these troubles as well as a brief description of cast iron soil pipe's role in promoting home sanitation. Drawings and cartoons illustrate the written explanations.

Home Items Key To Color Theme

The color of attractive objects that you buy for use in your kitchen quite often has a bearing on the hue of the paint you purchase to redecorate the walls and woodwork of your household workshop. As a consequence, you are feeling the effects of mass market selling in your own home.

According to the New York Journal of Commerce, a recent study of the colors which produce the most sales reveals that the hues most popular with the American public today are vermilion, soft yellow, yachting blue and emerald green.

Consumers whose income is above average go for coral, turquoise blue, avocado green, navy blue, copper and brown. Rising in esteem are such colors as pearl grey, chartreuse, forest green, burgundy, rose and black.

Non-Skid Bottoms

So many people have been seriously injured in bathtub falls that the use of tubs with corrugated bottoms becomes a real long-range economy. Enamelled pressed steel bathtubs, made somewhat in the same way automobile fenders are stamped out, have such nonskid bottoms. Light enough in weight for one man to handle, they are economical for installation and in colors they cost only about the same as white in heavier cast-iron tubs.

Cleaner for Tile

Tile men offer a new cleaner which takes grime out of the plaster between old tiles. You brush the solution into the plaster with a toothbrush to get it clean. Then you keep the plaster clean by using the solution on a terry cloth rag when you wipe the tile.

Not for Outdoors

Extension cords and outlets suitable for interior wiring should not be used outdoors where they will be exposed to the weather. If you want to have outdoor outlets be certain that both the outlet boxes and the necessary wiring is approved for exterior work.

Patching Concrete

Iron cement can be used to patch holes in concrete walls for it is waterproof. The hole should first be cut out so that the sides are parallel and then the cement, mixed into a paste with water, forced into place.

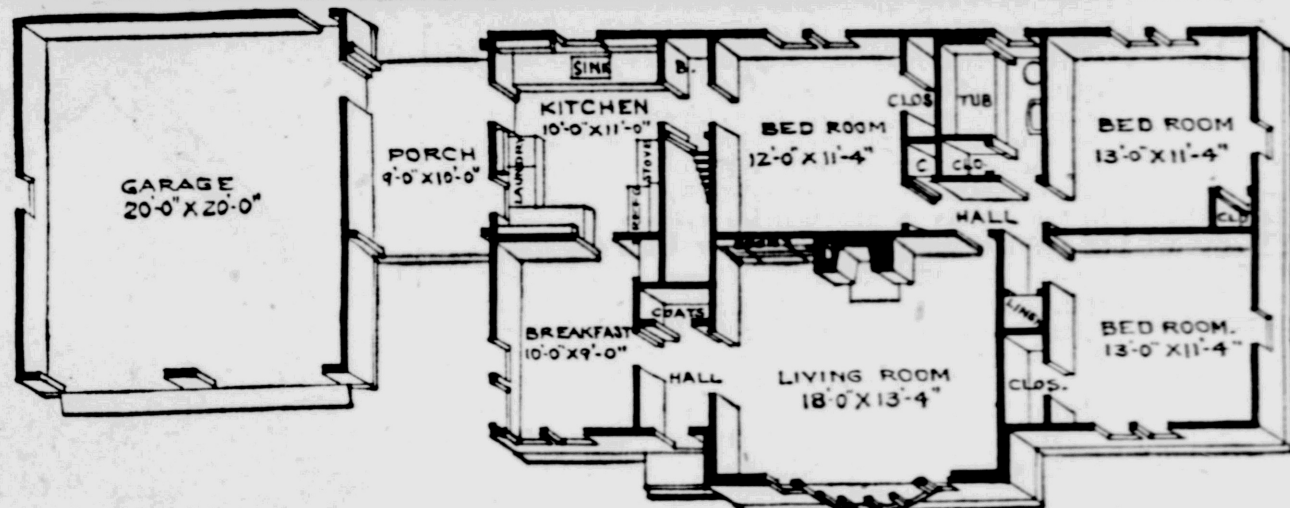

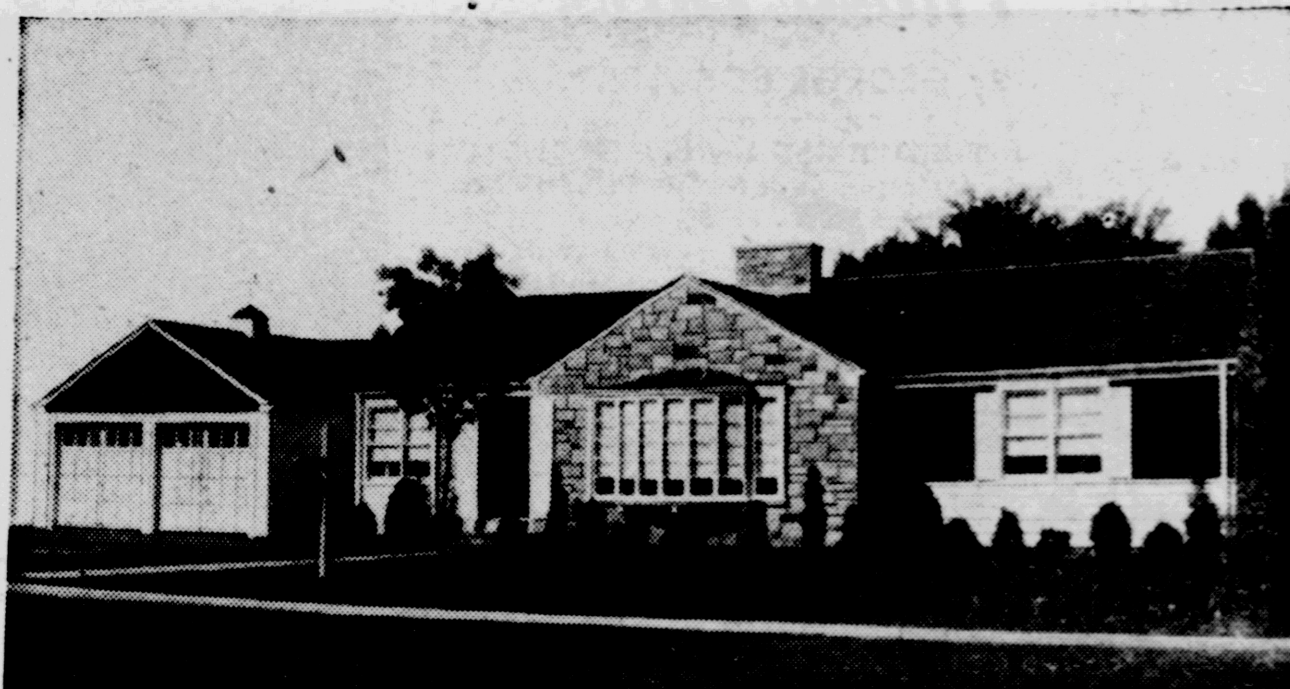

Kitchen Curtains

There are several points to remember in choosing curtain material for your kitchen. It's best if it is color fast, has high resistance to fire, is soil resistant and deteriorates little with exposure to light and heat.

Painting Stairs

To paint a stairway that must be used before the paint has opportunity to dry, paint every other step. Then when the first set of steps is dry, the alternate steps may be painted the same way.

The BALDFACE

This House Has Lot of Living Space

Plenty of Room in This Attractive Ranch Design

House 49'x26'
Overall 79'x26'

Large and well-planned "The Baldface", presented today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, will especially appeal to those families who prefer a home with plenty of living space.

While the house itself measures but 49 feet by 23 feet total overall length, including the porch and attached garage, is 79 feet. Thus, the minimum size lot on which you can build "The Baldface" is one of 100-foot frontage. Cubage of the house is 23,600 feet; cubage of the garage is 6,600 feet.

A combination finish—as suggested in the accompanying illustration—lends added interest to the exterior of the house and can be used most successfully to emphasize architectural details, such as the living room protrusion. Multi-colored roofing also can be used to good advantage.

Three large, well-ventilated and conveniently located bedrooms are features of the interior layout certain to win favor with a family of prospective home builders. Each of these rooms has an abundance of closet storage space, too. And, the all modern bath is placed conveniently near at hand.

Designed to double as a dining room the living room is as pleasant as it is spacious. The picture window bay in the front wall is the most outstanding decorative feature of the room. Attractive as well as practical are the fireplace and bookshelves along the back wall.

If you prefer to use the living room only as a pleasant place for friends and family to gather, you can convert the area designated as a breakfast room into a dining room. This good-sized room is very well lighted and ventilated and can be decorated most attractively.

Thoroughly modern the kitchen is larger than many found in modern homes. In addition to complete kitchen equipment it contains your home laundry.

Here again, however, a choice of location is up to the home owner. If you prefer, you can have your laundry equipment installed in the connecting porch—then, of course, the area should be enclosed. Be sure to provide doors for easy access to the yard.

Peat Moss in Soil

When fruit trees are planted, considerable peat moss should be incorporated in the soil. One pound of superphosphate and one-quarter of a pound of ground limestone per tree is also added. A mulch should be kept over the roots of all young fruit trees; but the only kind that needs heavy pruning before it starts to bear is the peach — trimmed every year.

Warning on Wax

Don't use wax with an oil base on a floor that is finished with a floor seal. It's okay, however, on a varnished floor.

Kripplebush

Kripplebush, May 7—The Rev. Malcolm Shattuck will preach his farewell sermon Mother's Day. The Rev. Mr. Shattuck installed the new WSCS officers for the coming year Sunday during the church service last week. The May meeting will be held May 19 at the home of Mrs. Kurt Sander with Mrs. Donald Christiana as leader.

Mrs. Kenneth Davis has been appointed the new church treasurer for the next two years.

Mrs. Vivian Miller has returned home after spending a week in Ohio and Michigan.

Billy Schwarz has returned home from Albany Hospital.

Mrs. Fred Barley spent the past week in Milford, Conn., with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barley and son.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiana and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Haener and Nancy spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. DuBois in Kingston.

The auxiliary will hold a talent night show May 8 at the hall. The public is invited.

Heating Economy

The efficiency of an old hot water or steam heating system can be increased by replacing the boiler with one specially designed for the type of fuel used.

Non-Skid Steps

Outside steps can be given a non-skid surface by coating the wood with spar varnish and, when it becomes tacky, sprinkling on some sand or sawdust.

Leather Has New Decorative Uses

Usually thinking of leather as something for that comfortable old by-the-fireplace chair that is all right for the masculine set, the homemaker will be amazed to see its translation today. Leather has indeed taken on a new importance in decorative schemes.

Appealing to feminine as well as masculine tastes, the bright and rich tawny leather colors, shrimp pink, Bristol blue, lead quartz, persimmon are suitable for use in both traditional and contemporary rooms. Unusual treatments include lozenge-shaped leather floors, leather inlaid walls, dados and window valances. Also of interest are newly created designs of stunning pin stripes in gold on white leather, tiny gold fleur de lis in gold on pale blue leather, and gold bees embossed on white leather.

Because of its many fine qualities there is a definite trend toward the high-fashion adaptation of leather in home decoration. Also of importance is its investment value through its long-lasting and easy-to-care-for characteristics, plus the fact that it lends itself well to popular color schemes.

Wet Basement Cure

A wet basement can often be corrected by sloping the lawn grade away from the house so water will drain away from the foundation.

Tree Care Is Cheaper

It costs $150 to $175 to remove a shade tree after it has died. It is cheaper to take care of a tree than permit it to die as a result of neglect.

It is described as a great labor-saver in installing underground water lines from house to barn or other outbuildings or lawn sprinkler systems.

ARMED FORCES WEEK

The 156th Field Artillery Battalion, New York National Guard will observe Armed Forces Week with special events to bring to the attention of the public the significance of the occasion.

Armed Forces Day, which will be celebrated on Saturday, May 15, has become the traditional occasion when the Nation expresses its pride and faith in the men and women of the military services whose task is keeping our country secure against all enemies.

This tribute to the men and women in uniform is more than accolade. It is an expression of confidence in the power they have built as the foundation of a secure peace. This power was created to allay the fears of a world that had lost its sense of security and thus its confidence. This power is reassuring the weak and restoring confidence throughout the free world.

Armed Forces Day also provides our citizens an opportunity to learn more about the armed services. Battery A will conduct an "open house" at the armory on Monday and Tuesday evenings and there also will be field displays and demonstrations.

Saturday, May 15, there will be a parade. Battery B and C in Poughkeepsie will join the local guardsmen. Jet bombers and fighter jets will salute Kingston in connection with the local Armed Forces Day parade.

Armed Forces Week is an occasion for the public to come, to see and gain renewed confidence in the men and arms defending this nation, its institutions and the ideals for which it stands.

BID TO BREAK NATO

Soviet Premier Malenkov recently reiterated the earlier proposal his country made to enter into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He did not say anything, however, which would persuade the Western allies that any good end could be served by admitting Russia.

To begin with, NATO was organized as a defense against possible Soviet aggression. Permitting Russia to join now would be like allowing a known, practicing burglar to join the police force.

The sole purpose of the Soviet proposal is to create dissension and disunity among the members of NATO. As a condition of joining NATO the original Soviet proposal called for abandonment of the idea of re-arming West Germany. Military men are convinced that a European Army in which West Germany was not included would be ineffective.

One fact can be gleaned from the numerous Russian efforts to interfere with the progress of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Soviet Union is disturbed by the idea of NATO because that organization can be a decisive force in repelling any future Communist aggression. We are sometimes impatient with slowness of NATO to develop along the lines we want it to. The Russian concern over it, however, is an indication that the progress made by NATO may be greater than we realize.

Anybody can do the easy things of life. The people who get ahead are those who tackle the difficult ones.

WATCH LOCAL SPENDERS

When we think of taxes and government spending, the emphasis is on the federal establishment. Washington collects most of the tax money and is the center of most fiscal arguments.

But do not overlook the growing tax problem of state government. In 1942, according to Thurman Sensing of the Southern States Industrial Council, total state taxes were less than $4,000,000,000. Last year they passed $10,500,000,000. It is estimated that in 1954 increases in state and local budgets will offset any decrease in federal spending.

It will do little good if federal tax cuts allow us to keep a few more dollars—and then tax collectors on the lower echelons of government take them away. Waste must be outlawed and efficiency pressed on every government level.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

EXECUTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE

Enough has come out of the McCarthy-Stevens hearings to establish that, at any rate, in one department of government and possibly in all departments, the sharp lines of demarcation between the Executive and the Legislative branches are breaking down or have broken down. It has also appeared that each side influences the other beyond constitutional propriety.

An examination into this trend would be more useful than the present hearings because it goes to the heart of our constitutional system, which provides for a definite division of powers, with stipulated controls and liaisons. If we go back to the already forgotten testimony of General Miles Reber and General Walter B. Smith, it is clear that government departments maintain legislative agents who do favors for members of Congress, presumably in return for favors in the halls of Congress. Even the President maintains such legislative agents.

While this may be interpreted as providing for better relations between the Executive and the Legislative branches of government, it is also an index to a quid pro quo, which in the instance of the Bricker Amendment resulted in the loss of this measure by one unexpected and critical vote. In the matter of any benefits proposed for Private G. David Schine, it might have been accomplished by shifting the McCarthy Committee's investigations to some agency other than Army technical installations. In the matter of the long-advised but never carried through investigations of the activities of the Foundations, somehow something always happens for that investigation to fade out.

It is not to be expected that each branch of government will operate in a vacuum, but when one utilizes unconstitutional means to override the other, the structure of government must collapse and anarchy ensue. The McCarthy-Stevens hearings provide a peephole view of the anarchy which it is believed has developed in the administration of government as its personnel and compartmentalization increased. This may be the only real and important result of the McCarthy-Stevens hearings. For 20 years now, a running criticism of Congressional government has been continuous. In the 1930's, that criticism first appeared in the form of a debate as to whether the "incompetents" selected by the people at elections were as able as the specially trained men, experts in particular fields. As the number of government employees increased and as the operations of government became more complex because of the depression, the Congress found itself increasingly dependent upon these experts for knowledge of particular operations of the many new bureaus and offices which were created in such profusion that neither the public nor Congress could keep up with them.

This was complicated by Mr. Roosevelt's habit of insisting upon what came to be called "must" legislation, most often prepared by the members of the White House staff, at times so complex that few had time to study and analyze them, and sometimes passed without adequate committee hearings and debate. Roosevelt's popularity and political acumen and the inadequacy of the Republican opposition lessened not only the authority of Congress but, many critics would say, the quality of the personnel of that body in both its Houses.

During the Truman Administration, Congress reasserted itself, particularly in the form of its investigative arm and in its rejection of "must" legislation. Administrative officials could not shift with the changed attitude of Congress, particularly the experts who felt that the Congress was interfering with them in their proper sphere. This attitude became particularly evident when the Eisenhower Administration took over and sought to reorganize the various departments of government. An official "elite" had given up, some men able, some only officeholders, who believed themselves to be superior to Congress. Many of them felt that the new Administration was unable to change the personnel of many Administrations because of Civil Service and veterans' preference laws. On the other hand, many members of Congress resent the attitude of this type of official, whom they call "holdovers" and whom they oppose, not only because they find their attitude offensive but because some Republicans want their jobs.

In this atmosphere, many of the older officials have contacts with Congress which are closer than that of the new officials who came in with the Eisenhower Administration. Thus, a situation has arisen in which subordinates seem to operate on their own authority.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

FUNCTIONAL AND TRUE HEART DISEASE

Because we read about so many cases of heart disease we fail to realize that there are more individuals who consult their physician about heart disease who do not have heart disease than do have heart disease. This is only natural because from the standpoint of life and death the heart is the most important organ in the body.

Most of these cases, consulting the physician about their heart who do not really have true or organic heart disease, are called functional heart disease, that is, some condition, usually in the heart region, such as a harmless murmur, a skipped or missed beat, or other symptoms which, in truth, may have some of the symptoms of organic heart disease. It is because of these symptoms that the patient consults his physician or the heart specialist.

In Postgraduate Medicine, Dr. Edgar Durbin, Denver, Colorado, states that functional heart disease is the most frequent type of heart disease and is very difficult to treat.

The symptoms of functional heart disease are similar to those of organic heart disease and these symptoms may be engrafted on the symptoms of true heart disease. Shortness of breath, palpitation, pain under breast bone especially, are complaints common to both classes of disease.

Tachycardia (very rapid heart beat), disturbances in the rhythm, change in the blood pressure, cyanosis (blue) of the skin, are all abnormal and make differentiation difficult.

Dr. Durbin points out that it is only natural that a patient with these symptoms so similar to the symptoms of organic heart disease should be just as worried about his symptoms as the patient with organic heart disease. This worry may help the doctor to make a diagnosis as the patient leaves out nothing in telling about his symptoms. On the other hand, too much of his story may confuse the doctor.

Functional heart disease occurs in the weak and the strong. This type of heart disease known as soldier's heart (neurocirculatory asthenia) (weak muscular heart) is very common.

What are the signs of functional heart disease that so frighten the patient?

X-rays show heart to be of normal size and shape and the electrocardiograph finds are usually normal, but the patient has developed extreme nervousness, a feeling of uncertainty, or insecurity, which leads to anxiety that produces the symptoms.

The treatment of functional heart disease is a thorough physical examination by the physician, explaining how this anxiety affects the normal heart—rapidly, shortness of breath, interference with the rhythm, difficult breathing. He will also explain that it is safe for the patient to do a certain amount of physical work. The fact that he can do some work is in itself most reassuring.

Why Worry About Your Heart?

Either you have true heart disease or you have not. One visit to your physician may be all that is necessary to set your mind at rest. Send for Dr. Barton's booklet, "Why Worry About Your Heart?" enclosing 25 cents to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, Inc. in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

The Agrarian Reformer Tills the Soil

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—A drive to sell an additional billion dollars' worth of U. S. savings bonds in 1954 has been announced by Earl O. Shreve, national director for this Treasury program.

Sales in 1952 were $3.6 billion and in 1953 they were $4.4 billion. The new campaign is shooting at a $5.5 billion figure.

The idea is to add another million savings bond purchasers to the eight million customers already buying through regular payroll deductions. Also, an attempt will be made to interest purchasers in buying bonds of larger denominations.

Experience shows that the $25 bonds cost the Treasury about $6 million a year to handle. While they account for 68 per cent of the paperwork in the savings bond division, these smaller bonds bring in only 27 per cent of the bond revenue.

The trouble seems to be that too many purchasers regard the $25 bonds as much like money. More $25 bonds are cashed in after being held only a short time than is the case with the $100 bonds. Savings bond experts now figure that if more people bought $100's, they would hang on to them longer.

To make the $100 bonds more attractive, the Treasury is now planning to "average date" their purchase.

Thus if a purchaser had $5 a week deducted from his pay check towards purchase of a $100 bond, it would start drawing interest at the end of the tenth week, when it was half paid for. Under previous regulations, $100 bonds were dated only when the final payment was made.

W. Randolph Burgess, deputy secretary of the treasury in charge of all government financing programs and the national debt, says there is nothing inconsistent about promoting the sales of savings bonds in this period of business recession.

While there has been much agitation to increase consumer spending at all levels, to curb the effects of the recession, Mr. Burgess points out that $5 billion a year going into savings bond purchases represents less than 2 per cent of the national income. Also, he says it's good business for anyone to save as much money as he can, any time.

As for what might happen if the economic situation got so bad that savings bond holders cashed in heavily, Mr. Burgess says only that so far there hasn't been enough depression to shake them out.

Total savings bond holdings as of Jan. 31, 1954, were $26.8 billion—the highest amount on record since the end of the war. This figure includes $36.1 billion of the popular Series E bonds and $700 million of the Series H bonds which pay interest regularly from the time of purchase instead of at the time of redemption or at maturity.

H Bonds have been on the market only since June, 1952. They are proving more attractive to older savings bond purchasers, who may not have ten years to live before E bonds mature. A plan is now under consideration to sell H bonds on the installment plan.

One of the more encouraging factors to Treasury officials is that so many holders of matured bonds are hanging onto them. About $10 billion worth of savings bonds purchased in wartime have now matured. But only a fourth of them have been cashed in.

The total amount of Series E

and H savings bonds now outstanding—$36.7 billion worth—represents 13 per cent of the U. S. national debt. Treasury officials would like to see this percentage raised. The purpose is to get as much of the debt as possible held by individuals.

While the national debt is now perilously close to its $275 billion legal limit, Secretary Burgess says there is no danger that the government's savings bond windfalls will have to be closed. An ample margin of $200 million or so under the legal debt limit will be maintained at all times to take care of current savings bond sales.

A Tribute to Mother

God gave us a treasure
Worth far more than gold,
No dearest possession
Could we ever behold.
And this dearest of gems
Can be replaced by no other.
What is it you are
Wherever you are
Through her strength and her wisdom
We are what we are.
From infancy onward
She's been our Guiding Star.
In sickness and in health,
She has shown us the way
To a brighter tomorrow.
With her smile of love
And a pat of her hand,
Mother gives us the courage
That we may understand.
If you need
Don't go to another
But to the best friend you have Promised to replace blood already
Used may do so at that time.
God bless all the Mothers
Both here and afar.
May this—Your Day—be happy
Thank God for that

MISS GRACE MACALUSO

(Thomas Photo)

Mrs. C. Macaluso of Bloomville announces the engagement of her daughter, Grace, to Ronald A. Kent of 42 Court avenue, Bloomville, son of Mrs. Florence Kent, Kingston and Walter Kent of Highland Falls.

A graduate of South Kortright Central School, South Kortright, Miss Macaluso is employed by the Keystone Gas Company, Walton.

Mr. Kent attended Kingston High School and is now employed as agent for the New York Central at Highmount.

Maennerchor to Start
Children's Chorus

Carrying on the song traditions of German folk music, Julius Hochmuth of Poughkeepsie has a special children's chorus in connection with the Maennerchor in that city. In an effort to establish the same tradition here in this community, Mrs. Thure Olsen, of the Kingston Maennerchor Auxiliary, would like to hear from mothers interested in forming this chorus of youthful singers.

"It is not necessary to know the German language," Mrs. Olsen explained, "in order to join the group. Although the main object is to learn the music in the original German, many youngsters with American background are in the Poughkeepsie chorus."

Since Mr. Hochmuth conducts weekly classes for the youngsters in Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Olsen has offered to provide transportation for instruction in that city until a group can be formed in Kingston.

Mothers Will Conduct
Program at Church

The Alliance Gospel Church will have a special service Sunday at 7:30 p. m. conducted by the mothers, assisted by the choir of the church, in a special tribute to motherhood.

Taking part in the program will be the Meses. George Shaver, Ernest Wirth, Minnie Middagh, George Bilyou, Florence Moore, Edgar Pilz, Fred Koch, Roger Jones, Edwin Healy, Tracy Pelham, James Pruden, Elsie Pultz. The usherettes will be Mrs. DeForest Shaver and Mrs. Pilz.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND

Provisional Members of Junior League Study Community

Future Members Learn
Many Facts About
Kingston in CourseBy MARIANNE DAVIS
Freeman Society Editor

Learning about "your city" can be an exciting and amazing experience is the consensus of opinion of the eight provisional members of the Junior League. They have completed a training program under the direction of Mrs. Peter Corsones of 194 Fair street which has taken them into the probation office of the County Court House to learn about the problems with juveniles, and to the Chamber of Commerce of the city where they heard about the expected industrial progress in this area.

"Even though several of the provisionals have lived in Kingston all their lives," said Mrs. Corsones in an interview this week, "they told me they'd learned more about different departments and facilities than they'd ever dreamed of before." The one-week course which she directed was so impressive that a Phoenix resident, Mrs. William McGrath, refused to miss a class in spite of a driving rainstorm one night.

"It's like going back to school," Mrs. Corsones said, "and even though I'd taken it when I was a provisional, I heard many things that were news to me now."

From Public Health to Industry

Mrs. Corsones gave a brief indication of the territory covered by listing the program: subject, probation - lecture by Edmund Burhans at the Probation Office, County Court House; subject, public health - lecture by Dr. Dudley Hargraves and Miss Esther Schisa at Public Health Office; subject, education, lecture by Alexander Banyo; subject, industry, lecture by N. Jansen Fowler, Chamber of Commerce Office; subject, welfare and tumor clinic, lecture by Dr. Milton

Grover and Miss Elma Kullman; lecture tour of Senate House and Museum by Miss Agnes Scott Smith and Mrs. Robert MacKinnon.

The talk by Mr. Banyo on the educational problems and progress drew forth so many questions among the young mothers that the discussion spilled over the hour allotted. Mr. Fowler found himself answering many queries outside the field of industry which the alert provisionals posed about their community.

On the agenda is a study of the city government via a trip to the Common Council Chambers and a talk by City Clerk Bernhard Kramer in June. The program was regulated by the college vacation of one of the members, and proved that the "condensed course" was of real value.

Plan Programs to Cheer Patients

The eight prospective League members are Mrs. George Bushnell, Mrs. David Cates, Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush, Mrs. Sam Pepper, Mrs. Ted Smallman of Hurley, Mrs. McGrath and Miss Clara Lewis and Miss Carolyn Newkirk. Three other provisionals, Miss Jean Milliken of Hurley, Mrs. James Matthews and Mrs. Augustus Brimmer, will complete their training period next year.

"Active league members," said Mrs. Corsones, "serve the community in many ways. Let me list for you a few of the services," and she consulted her notebook. "They drive the children to and from the Cerebral Palsy Clinic and served as baby sitters there when the mothers group met weekdays."

"The Cheer Chain Group tutors at the Children's Home here to help the students with their difficult homework. Mrs. MacKinnon, Mrs. James Abernethy, Mrs. Robert O'Reilly and Mrs. Wayne Wright were on that committee last year," continued Mrs. Corsones. "And this same group has given programs at the Home for the Aged, the TB Hospital, and the County Home at New Paltz. They provided refreshments and little favors, brought sterling silver candleholders, and a punch bowl. They enjoyed the entertainment program themselves, leading the residents in group singing and group games."

Volunteers Always Active

Active volunteer service to the community is certainly the keynote to the entire Junior League program. Mrs. Herman Knaust became so enthusiastic about the Cheer Chain Group that she's decided to extend the services to Saugerties.

Volunteers from the league are in the Red Cross as drivers, hostesses in the Tumor Clinic Wednesdays, greeting the patients and helping with the charts, and leading tours of school children through the Senate House. The league's Loan Closet supplies at no cost such vital items as wheel chairs, crutches, and hospital beds which often have been obtained second hand and refurnished by the members themselves.

Always contributors to worthwhile causes, the members help the Cancer, Cerebral Palsy, and Boys Club as well as the Red Cross to name but a few, in their drives for funds. A delight to the school children of Kingston are the plays presented exclusively for them by the Children's Theatre Group which just gave, Richard Brown and the Dragon, in the schools this week.

Provisional members will give 27 hours of service in the Junior League Exchange which sells new and used articles, operated basically to raise funds for the league welfare account.

"Members really enjoy giving their time and effort to help the community," said enthusiastic Mrs. Corsones who divides her own time between her home, three young children, and league appointments. Under the leadership of Mrs. Raymond Garraghan, president, the league will again this year work toward the goal of "putting into practice ideals of democratic living."

It would seem that the provisionals who had a busy week of learning, may look forward to even busier weeks of real service to their community.

Second Performance of Kingston High School
Choir Will Be Given in Auditorium Tonight

Another enjoyable evening of musical entertainment was provided at the high school last night with the annual concert of the Kingston High School Choir. These young vocalists under the capable direction of Leonard Stine, handled difficult selections with phrasing and control of professional performers.

The clean-cut execution of the group numbers is credit to the fine training received by these youngsters. The audience was appreciative also of the solos by the students, each of whom demonstrated poise and a command of the material at hand.

Performance Tonight

The performance will change in two parts for tonight's concert at the high school, with two different sets of solo performers appearing on the stage. The remainder of the program will be the same as last night, which was pleasing to the ear of the listener. A capacity audience greeted the numbers with spontaneous applause.

The first number, A Festival Prelude by Bach-Stoessel, opened with a piano and organ duet played by the accompanists, Cameron Rylance and Arlene Harris, demanded utmost brilliance from the sopranos. Hail Gladdening Light by Wood, showed the rich tonal effect by the double choir.

The first group of solos opened with When I Have Sung My Songs by Charles, sung pleasingly by Jacqueline Haulenbeck. I Love Thee by Grieg, well sung by Kenneth Hotelling was followed by The Star by Rogers, sung by Doris Herdman, who possesses an exceptional voice.

Choir Group Sings

The next choir group of four Folk Songs began with Dark Water by James. The words, music and mood were well combined. Waters Ripple and Flow arranged by Taylor is a hauntingly beautiful song, well presented. The Negro spiritual, Ride the Chariot, has good rhythm and sparkling soprano work.

The second group of solos were well sung and accompanied professionally by Cameron Rylance. William Roosa sang On Wings of Song by Mendelssohn. Hageman's Music I Heard With You, sung by Jane Gunter, was well received. Estelle Fatum concluded with a fine rendition of A Spirit Flower by Campbell-Tipton.

The spirit of the final group was set by the gay Holiday Song by Schuman. The next number, The Snow by Elgar, produced a beautiful effect with the use of obbligato for two violins played by Harold Weaver and Jane Gunter. Everyone, audience and choir alike, enjoyed the performance of Dry Bones arranged by Gearhart, with string bass played by David Millonig and assorted sound effects from other members of the choir.

Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor, by Berlin-Ringwald, brought the evening's program to a thrilling conclusion with a brass octet augmenting the choir. The audience demanded a second performance of this number. The final encore was You'll Never Walk Alone by Rogers-Ringwald, with a four-hand piano accompaniment played by Cameron Rylance and Arlene Harris.

Mrs. Katherine Ahlers
Has 88th Birthday

Mrs. Katherine Ahlers of 80 O'Neil street celebrated her 88th birthday Friday. A Kingston resident since she was 20 years of age, Mrs. Ahlers now lives with her daughter, Miss Margaret Ahlers.

Her late husband, Fred Ahlers, had a grocery store on Hunter street. Mrs. Ahlers also has a son, Fred Ahlers, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Warren Schoonmaker and Miss Betty Ahlers.

Hurley Unit

The Hurley Home Bureau unit will meet Thursday, May 13, at 1:30 p. m. in the Hurley Reformed Church for the regular meeting and to observe Achievement Day. All members are requested to bring completed articles for display. Open house will be held from 2 to 3 p. m. Visitors are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

Bureau Office Moves

The Ulster County Home Bureau has moved to another office. The new address is 220 Wall street.

Citizenship School

The Home Bureau Citizenship Training School is being held this week at Cornell University in Ithaca. The topics to be discussed will be Social Security and Children's Courts. Mrs. William Hogan of New Paltz is attending the training school in Ithaca. Mrs. Hogan will be the Citizenship leader in Ulster county this year. The County Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Everice Parsons, also is attending the meeting.

Study Group Meets

The Council of Study Club Officers met Monday night at the Accord School with Mrs. Millard Davis presiding. A roll call of Study Clubs found the following clubs present: High Falls, Child Understanding, Mawak, Club 18, Lang Syne, Kingston 1, Kingston 3, Kingston 4, Worcester, EKA, and Forest Glen. Each group told of its course of study for the year.

Miss Everice Parsons announced that Joseph Burroughs would visit Ulster county in the fall, the Do-It-Yourself Workshop will be in operation next week and the Garden Day at Lake Mohonk will be June 10.

Economy Plan

New York, May 8 (AP)—The Commerce and Industry Assn. has told Gov. Thomas E. Dewey it believes a study of all New York city departments would disclose economies sufficient to balance the budget and eliminate extension of the 3 per cent sales tax. The association said such a study could disclose savings in excess of 30 million dollars—the amount Mayor Robert F. Wagner says must be raised to balance the budget. It added a study of only five city departments by Charles M. Zust Co., showing that savings of $1,927,000 could be made.

After Last 10 Bodies

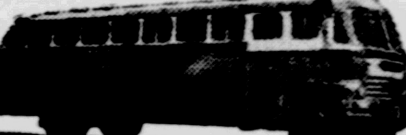

Nassau, Bahamas, May 8 (AP)—Diving crews were expected today to bring up the last of 10 bodies from a two-engine airplane Neptune bomber that crashed in tropic darkness during anti-submarine exercises in the Bahamas. The plane crashed about 3:30 a. m. (EST) yesterday, shortly after taking off from Windsor Field. It went into the water about 200 yards off shore from Clifton pier on the southern coast of the island. Six bodies had been recovered last night and others were sighted trapped in the wreckage. All aboard were killed.

Slap at Propaganda

New York, May 8 (AP)—Rep. Katharine St. George (R-N.Y.) said yesterday that a bill will be introduced soon to deny below-cost postal rates to propaganda material from subversive organizations. She called it "unconscionable that American taxpayers should be called upon to pay a part of the cost of handling mailings which are intended to undermine our form of government."

Won't Sign on Raiding

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers will not sign a proposed "no raiding" agreement with the AFL, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette said today. The newspaper said it had learned the steel union's stand was taken because the AFL teamsters had also turned down the proposed pact. David J. McDonald, USW president, was not available for comment.

Scouts Receive Pins

New Paltz, May 8—Girl Scout Troop 37, having completed the requirements for Senior Scouts, received pins at an investiture service at the home of their troop leader, Mrs. John Deeb, Wednesday. Girl Scouts who received pins were Delia Kemp, Mary Jacobson, Carolyn Stark, Janet Shand, Kathy Vett, Janis Shand and Ruth Heidgerd. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

Field Trip Is Held

By Campus Students

New Paltz, May 8—Edgar Klugman's first grade group recently took a field trip to Newburgh. Assisting were Miss Loder, Miss LaPorte and Mrs. Larson. Also five mothers, Mrs. Robie, Mrs. Purcell, Mrs. Fall, Mrs. Tufts and Mrs. Norman Osterhoudt.

They visited the Dayline dock where they boarded a tugboat. The engineer and some of the crew guided the group through the tug showing them the working parts.

Of interest to the children was the engine room where they learned about the signal system between the engineer and the captain of the boat. In the pilot house they saw the big compass and instruments used to steer the boat. The steering on this boat is done automatically although there is a large wheel that can be used in emergency.

After enjoying their lunch and rest period in the park students went to the ferry slip and enjoyed the trip to Beacon. Mr. Slaughter, the manager of the ferry company, accompanied them on this trip and upon their arrival at Beacon he escorted them on a ferry tied up for repairs. Here they were able to compare the ferry with the tugboat and had many questions answered by Slaughter. Everyone enjoyed the entire day and had much to relate to their families.

98 Get Vaccine

New Paltz, May 8—Miss Beth Kurtzman, Campus School nurse, has announced that 98 children in the Campus School are taking part in the polio vaccination program. Twenty-four children are from the first grade, 45 from the second and 29 are from the third grade. The first shots were given last Thursday. Follow-up shots were given this week and the third shots will be administered in four weeks.

Food Is Compared

New Paltz, May 8—Miss Alma Bent's third grade pupils are studying foods and are now comparing the foods eaten today with those eaten in primitive times. This week they are preparing a typical American Indian dinner. The menu consists of fish, boiled corn meal cakes, sassafras tea, curly docks, cat tail roots and wild onions. The children of the class caught the fish for the meal. Most of the third graders will agree that meals of today are much more palatable than those of the American Indians.

Hear About Japan

Miss Sylvia Hoyt gave an interesting talk on Japan and its people in Miss Gloria Sorrentino's class. Tuesday, The Japanese clothing she had brought for display was modeled by the students of the class. A display of articles used by the Japanese in their daily life made the discussion very interesting. Of particular interest to the students were the dried Japanese foods.

Mixed Chorus to Give
Spring Concert May 21

New Paltz, May 8—The New Paltz College-Community Mixed Chorus will present its seventh annual spring concert in the auditorium of State University Teachers College, Friday, May 21, at 8:15 p. m. it was announced today by Robert Strothenke, director.

The group of some 80 voices will sing the famous oratorio, Elijah by Felix Mendelssohn. Elijah, according to Strothenke, is one of the greatest oratorios ever written but, unfortunately, it and other comparable works are less often performed than the popular oratorio, Messiah.

Beautiful Mother, and the traditional nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of white Chantilly lace over satin and nylon net. The fitted bodice with illusion yoke was outlined with iridescent sequins and long pointed sleeves. A full skirt of Chantilly lace and nylon net terminated in a cathedral train. She wore a plain veil and carried a small bouquet of white roses.

The bride's sister, Miss Mary Zelasko who served as maid of honor was attired in a gown of blue nylon net with tiered floor length skirt with sculptured taffeta bodice and taffeta jacket.

Another sister of the bride, Miss Edna Zelasko who served as bridesmaid was attired in a gown of orchid lace and nylon net with floor length skirt of net with lace inserts. The bodice was of lace as was the jacket which had short sleeves. The bride's honor attendants carried baskets of spring flowers.

John Buono served as best man and John Porto as usher. Both are from Glasco.

The bride's mother wore a dress of powder blue crepe with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a navy blue dress with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of red roses.

A reception for the immediate family was held at the Ridge Colony in Catskill where a turkey dinner was served. Music for dancing was supplied by Tony Cello's Trio.

For the wedding journey to Virginia and the southern states the bride chose for her traveling ensemble a pink gingham suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride attended St. Patrick's Academy in Catskill and is presently employed with Exquisite Form Co. in Saugerties. The bridegroom, a graduate of Saugerties High School is employed as an electrician at the Hitebrant Dry Dock Co. in Kingston. Mr. Provenzano served four years with the U. S. Air Force and was stationed in Alaska.

On return from the wedding journey the newlyweds will make their home at 52 Elm street, Saugerties.

Mt. Tremper

Mt. Tremper, May 8—Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mellevold, Mrs. Helene Umhey, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gustafson, Mrs. Alta de Silva and Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Keiser attended the performance of the Catskill Glee Club at the Woodstock Reformed Church. The Glee Club is under the direction of Roland Heermance. Local residents William Spanhake, Sr. and Ralph Longyear are members.

The West Hurley Fire Department staged a special demonstration of fire-fighting equipment for the benefit of the Ontario Hose Company Wednesday night. New methods and apparatus were shown. Thirteen members of the Mt. Tremper Volunteer Fire Company participated.

Miss Clara Davis has been visiting relatives in Kingston for a few weeks.

The newspaper staff of the Ontario Parent-Teacher Association will meet in the board room at the Ontario Central School Tuesday at 8 p. m.

Mrs. John Callaghan, Mrs. Howard Umhey, Mrs. Sylvester Wells, Mrs. Augustus Simpson and Arthur Reid spent Tuesday in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Smith, Jr., celebrated a wedding anniversary Wednesday, May 5.

Those wishing to donate to the Cancer Fund may do so by contacting Mrs. Marianne Umhey, who is the chairman for this area.

Mrs. Anthony Schuhoose called on Mrs. William Cassens Wednesday afternoon.

Prompt action on the part of the Phoenixia and Shandaken fire companies saved the main portion of the Russell House in a fire Wednesday afternoon. The kitchen and laundry of the boarding-house were damaged, however.

The regular monthly meeting of the Community Association of Mt. Tremper and Mt. Pleasant, Inc., was held Thursday night. Special elections were held and Burton Lane, who had been acting pro tem, was chosen president. Barney Mellevold was elected vice-president. Final plans were made for the card party to be held in the former schoolhouse Saturday evening, May 15. A special work session will be held Wednesday evening, May 12, to install shelves for the proposed free lending library. Harry Carle, chairman of the building committee, requests the aid of all male members of the Association.

Miss Doris May and R. Allen Carle recently announced the date of their wedding. The ceremony will take place in the Wittenberg Church, Sunday, June 27.

Mrs. Robert Hudler spent last Wednesday in Albany.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle held

MR. AND MRS. JOHN MARMO

a special meeting in the church hall Tuesday afternoon. Main purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of a one-day bus ride to New York in the near future. At least 30 passengers are necessary in order to have the trip, but so far only 16 have made reservations. Anyone in the Allentown-Boiceville area who might be interested in such an excursion may receive further information by contacting Mrs. Vera Winne.

Mrs. Raymond Wenchell of Catskill spent Thursday and Friday as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Emma Cunningham, at her home on the Ontario Trail. Mrs. Wenchell is the former Miss Mamie Short of this community.

Nuptials Are Held For Rosetta Colange And John Marmo

Miss Rosetta Colange, daughter of Mrs. William Colange of 755 Broadway, and John Marmo, of 124 Washington avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Marmo of 1961 West 11th street, Brooklyn, were married Saturday at St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. James V. Keating performed the 3 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Peter Mancuso was soloist, in the selections, Ave Marie by Schubert, and Panis Angelicus.

Short of this community.

Mrs. Rafferty was accompanist on the organ.

White snapdragons and carnations formed the floral setting of the church. Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, the bride wore a gown of peau d'ange lace and nylon tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves and a Vee neckline. Her bouffant skirt of alternating panels of lace and tulle terminated in a court train. Her three length French illusion veil was secured by a princess crown of seed pearls and silver lined bugle beads.

Mrs. Charles H. Weidner 4, of West Shokan, was matron of honor. She wore a gown of white nylon net over green taffeta, styled with a crystal bodice, and a bouffant waist length skirt. A fichu of net and a crown of stylized daisies with an afternoon veil completed her ensemble.

Sal Sabatino of Brooklyn was best man for the bridegroom.

Following a reception held at Rolling Acres for the immediate families, Mr. and Mrs. Marmo left on a trip to Florida. On their return, they will live at Miller's Lane. For traveling, the bride chose a tangerine colored suit with black patent leather accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and is employed at Island Dock, Inc. The bridegroom is employed at Standard Furniture Company as a salesman.

Educator Dies at 93

Lowville, May 8 (AP)—Frederick E. Bellows, 93, who served as superintendent of schools at Mamaroneck for 34 years, died in a hospital here yesterday. He began teaching school at the age of 16, was a graduate of Albany State Normal School and held a doctor of pedagogy from City College of New York. Bellows joined the Mamaroneck school system in 1892.

Petty Grand Larceny

Wahalla, S. C. (AP)—A thief who steals $20 is being cheated, inflation considered, a prosecutor told a court session here. "The dollar," said Fant, "is not worth a full dollar now and the thief who takes $20 actually doesn't get his money's worth, but still can be sentenced for grand larceny."

has one leg to stand on—and figures that's enough!

The STANDING PAT is a manufacturer who begins things vigorously. That's all. Begins.

He never finishes a race because his getaway looks good enough. And he won't dance the two-step because the one-step seems plenty.

He uses a burst of newspaper advertising to introduce a product—then sits back complacently while his sales slow down to a walk.

Fortunately the STANDING PAT is a rare creature.

This message prepared by BUREAU OF ADVERTISING INC., American Newspaper Publishers Association and published in the interests of fuller understanding of newspapers by THE KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN

Most wise manufacturers who gain one success realize that continued use of newspapers will produce more of the same.

Which is why newspaper advertising, a local power, has become a national habit among national advertisers.

No wonder national advertising in newspapers showed a 12.8% gain over the year before!

All business is local...and so are all newspapers!

Ready to Talk Wages

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP)—Leaders of the CIO-United Steelworkers Union, having put finishing touches on 1954 contract demands, are ready to sit down at the bargaining table with representatives of the nation's basic steel producers. Talks get under way May 18 with U. S. Steel Corp., largest producer in the country. Dates for negotiations with other companies are expected to be soon. Contracts expire June 30. The union's 170-man wage policy committee ended a two-day session yesterday by formally adopting a program which established four main bargaining objectives.

Seaway for Signature

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway, a notoriously slow legislative starter, wound up in a blaze of speed yesterday when the Senate completed congressional action and sent the measure to President Eisenhower. An Atlantic-to-the-Great Lakes passageway for ocean-going ships has been a project favored by every U. S. President since World War I, including President Eisenhower. But the project was always blocked in Congress.

Good News on Taxes

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee reportedly has decided tentatively to allow income taxpayers a bigger deduction for medical expenses. The provision, already okayed by the House, would permit deduction of medical costs above 3 per cent of income, instead of the present 5 per cent. The committee, now working on an 875-page, House-passed tax overhaul bill, also was said to have agreed to double the ceiling on medical deductions, raising them to $2,500 for an individual and $10,000 for a family. An estimated 8½ million taxpayers would benefit to the tune of about $80 million dollars a year, committee members said after a closed door session yesterday.

30 Days to Show Cause

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Burton C. Bova, general counsel of the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) for nearly 14 years, has been given 30 days to show cause why he should not be fired. Bova has been on leave since April 16, when he refused to resign in a shakeup of top agency personnel that followed disclosures of alleged multi-million dollar abuses in certain phases of FHA's loan-insurance program. Acting FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason said yesterday there was "no evidence of illegal activity" by Bova.

Prepare for Trial

New York, May 8 (AP)—Bronx County Court prepared for the second trial of William A. Howell, accused of first degree murder, by drawing a special panel of 200 jurors yesterday. The jurors are to appear for start of the new trial on May 24. The first was declared a mistrial May 3 after the judge became ill.

She Chooses Mouse

Charleston, W. Va., May 8 (AP)—The West Virginia Conservation Department, which is conducting a campaign to select an official state animal, has received its first vote. The choice submitted by Mrs. D. L. Price of South Charleston was the mouse.

Highway Fatality

Chester, May 8 (AP)—Charles Fullerton, 24, of Sugar Loaf, N. Y., was killed instantly today when his automobile left the road in this Orange county town and struck a tree. Police said his neck was broken.

Gulf Stream Route

The Gulf Stream traverses a route of more than 6,000 miles, from the Gulf of Mexico to the cold waters of the Arctic north of Norway.

Can't Confine Zoning

Newark, N. J., May 8 (AP)—Planners from three states have stressed that property zoning no longer can be confined within a single community's borders. Instead, they say, in populated areas today forward-looking programs must hop across borders of towns and even counties when necessary to develop one area properly. The views were expressed at the first annual meeting yesterday of the inter-county planning conference, composed of representatives from the metropolitan region of New Jersey, New York and Connecticut.

To Enter Elections

Chicago, May 8 (AP)—A new organization which was founded to "combat super-internationalism and communism" has announced it will enter the fall congressional elections. The organization, called "For America," was founded yesterday at a meeting in the Chicago Club. The founders said it was not a new political party, but that the organization will enter the fall elections "to fight within both parties for congressmen and senators who have the same principles" as the new group.

Students Suspended

Middletown, Conn., May 8 (AP)—The suspension of eight students in connection with a series of disorders last Sunday when a Veteran of Foreign Wars Loyalty Day parade passed the Wesleyan University campus has been announced by the University. The action was taken yesterday after a university investigation committee composed of administrative officers, faculty members and student representatives had made its report.

Bid Turned Down

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Russia's bid to join NATO and set up a new all-European security system was formally turned down by the western Big Three in identical notes to Moscow yesterday. The notes, made public by the State Department yesterday, said in diplomatic language what spokesmen for the United States, Britain and France had said when Russia made its proposal last March 31.

Will Continue Flights

Taipei, Formosa, May 8 (AP)—Civil Air Transport announced today that its planes will continue flying in support of French forces in Indochina despite the loss of two American pilots and their flying boxcar Thursday over Dien Bien Phu. About 25 American civilians are flying supply planes for CAT, the airline run by retired Maj. Gen. Clare L. Chennault.

Former Kingston Rabbi to Receive Honorary Degree

Rabbi Victor Eppstein, who formerly served at Temple Emanuel, this city, during the early 1930's, will receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity from his alma mater, the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion at graduation exercises in New York June 1.

Rabbi Eppstein, who preceded Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom at Temple Emanuel, is director of the Hillel Foundation at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind. During the June 1 ceremony, Dr. Nelson Glueck, president of the College-Institute, America's only seminary of Reformed Judaism, will confer the degree.

25 Years in Ministry

Rabbi Eppstein, who this year celebrates his 25th anniversary in the ministry, has given leadership to college youth as a Hillel director since 1944. He served Hillel at Pennsylvania State College and at the College of the City of New York before accepting his present post. Earlier, he also led the Madison Avenue Temple, Scranton, Pa., and the United Hebrew Congregation, Havana, Cuba. He was the organizing rabbi of the Havana congregation which, under his leadership became the leading Jewish place of worship in Cuba. A former member of the Board of Trustees of the Jewish Institute of Religion, he served as lecturer in Biblical Hebrew on this school faculty for some years. He also served as lecturer in history at CCNY.

Born in Peoria, Ill., he took his BA degree with honors in 1926 from the University of California. Three years later he was ordained as rabbi and received the Master of Hebrew Literature degree at the Jewish Institute of Religion. A citation accompanying the honorary degree lauds Rabbi Eppstein as "... devoted Rabbi, inspiring leader and teacher, self-sacrificing public servant in America ..."

President's Plan

ly against Red conquest and dealing now with the war which is actively under way in the Indochina state of Viet Nam.

Depends on Geneva

He said that efforts to work out an armistice in the Geneva conference could produce an acceptable settlement of the fighting. But he acknowledged the possibility that an unacceptable settlement, from the American point of view, might be made. If there is an unacceptable armistice or a failure to agree on ending the fighting, he said, the need for an anti-Communist coalition would be "even more urgent."

Dulles recalled that the United States had gone into the Korean fight to support the military defense of a people already resisting armed assault and under a United Nations mandate. But he declared that the situation in Indochina "is far more complex."

No Immediate Need
The present conditions there do not provide a suitable basis for the United States now to participate with its armed forces," he said.

The secretary of state did not define what conditions he had in mind but one, at least, appeared from other parts of his speech to be the fact that no arrangement for united action now exists.

Three Other Steps
However, Dulles said the administration had long ago decided that three other steps were important:

1. The French should "give greater reality" to their plan to grant full independence to Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia in order to deprive the Communists of their "false claim" that they are leading the fight for independence. In this connection Dulles praised a treaty recently concluded with Laos and steps to give Viet Nam its independence.

2. There should be greater reliance upon native armies fighting in defense of their own home. He said this would become more possible as the grants of independence gave the Indochinese more cause to fight.

3. There should also be "greater free world assistance." In this connection Dulles noted that the United States had progressively lifted the burden of war cost from the shoulders of France until today the United States is paying at the rate of 800 million dollars a year plus supplying great quantities of military equipment.

Indochina Peace

Eden and Russia's Foreign Minister Molotov will preside on alternate days.

Western delegates do not expect to get a clue to the Communist position until the second session. It was generally believed it would become apparent in the first major speech by the Communists whether there is any chance of an Indochina peace.

The fall of Dien Bien Phu naturally eliminated what was to have been a preliminary for discussion—a cease-fire for the removal of sick and wounded.

Korean Phase Put Off
The Korean phase of the conference was suspended until at least Monday, pending the start of Indochinese negotiations.

Molotov, who was chairman of yesterday's session, said he was leaving today open for a possible session on Indochina.

It has been generally agreed anyway that the Korean talks are leading nowhere.

The two conferences are expected to go on simultaneously until the Korean question is finally disposed of.

Australasia includes New Zealand, Tasmania, smaller islands, and Australia.

Local Death Record

Charles DuBois

Funeral services for Charles DuBois of 8 Smith avenue were held Friday afternoon from the W. N. Conner Funeral Home, Inc., with the Rev. Forrest R. Prindle of the Church of the Comforter officiating. The services were largely attended by relatives and his many friends and floral tributes were many and beautiful. Thursday night Roundout Lodge, 343, F & AM, visited the funeral home and conducted ritualistic services with James Norton as master. Burial was in Wiltwyck Cemetery.

Mrs. Cora Williams

Mrs. Cora Williams, 61, died suddenly Friday at her home on the Shavertown Road, town of New Paltz. She was a native of New Paltz and for many years had owned and operated a farm. She leaves a son, Ralph Williams, and a daughter, Mrs. Carlson Codding, both of New Paltz; also a brother, Melvin Williams and nine grandchildren. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Pine Funeral Home, New Paltz, with the Rev. G. J. Wulfschlegel officiating. Burial will be in New Paltz Rural Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home in the afternoon and evening on Saturday and Sunday.

Frank Schryver

Frank Schryver, a retired painter, died this morning at his home in Glasco. Funeral services will be held at the Hartley & Lamouree Funeral Home, 8 Second street, Saugerties, at 2 p. m. Tuesday with burial in Mountain View Cemetery. Surviving is his widow, Fannie Lash Schryver, and a sister, Mrs. D. E. Brink of Belleville, N. J.

Frederick D. Lockwood

Frederick D. Lockwood, 64, who since 1924 was manager of the New York Credit Exchange, 280 Broadway, died Friday in Presbyterian Hospital after an illness of several weeks. He was born in Daarskill, near Walden, and later studied business administration at Columbia and New York Universities. In 1916 he was sales manager of the Thomas A. Edison Chemicals and was an army ordnance captain in World War I. After the war he was vice-president of Sterling Lockwood Works and president of Lockwood and Co., oil refiners. Mr. Lockwood was a member of Edison Pioneers, Kingston Lodge, 10, F & AM and the Shriners. Kingston Lodge will hold services at the parlors of A. Carr and Son, 1 Pearl street, Sunday at 7:30 p. m. Friends may call at the parlors 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. Sunday. Mr. Lockwood is survived by his wife, Lena Young Lockwood; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Muzzey of Leonardo, N. J., and Mrs. Mae Joyce of Jersey City, N. J. Burial will be in Woodstock Cemetery.

Charles P. Scheid

The funeral of Charles P. Scheid was held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, and 9:30 at St. Joseph's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Stephen P. Connelly. Many relatives and friends were present. The children's choir sang "Pie Jesu" at the offertory and in Paradisum at the conclusion of the Mass. During the bereavement many called at the chapel. Friday evening Msgr. Connelly recited prayers for the dead and at 8:30 p. m. the Rev. John D. Simmons led the Holy Name members in the Holy Rosary. Beautiful floral tributes and many Mass cards were placed near the casket. Bearers were Woodrow Thompson, John Suskie, Wallace Dunn, Kenneth Miller, George and William Glaser. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, where the Rev. James Keating gave the final absolution.

Carrie DeWitt Sutton

Carrie DeWitt Sutton, 92, mother of County Clerk Harry D. Sutton, one of the oldest residents of southern Ulster, died at the Ulster County Infirmary Friday night after an illness of three months. Mrs. Sutton was born in Atwood, daughter of the late Cornelius and Sarah Bush DeWitt. She attended the public school at Atwood and also attended the Atwood Methodist Church. On December 18, 1888, she was married to David M. Sutton at Stone Ridge. They moved to Lloyd in 1893 where Mrs. Sutton was postmistress for more than 20 years. They moved to Clintondale in 1936 and Mr. Sutton died in 1938 and since then Mrs. Sutton has made her home with her son. She attended Friends Meeting in Clintondale. Surviving is a son, County Clerk Harry D. Sutton of Clintondale; a grandson, Marshall Ostrander Sutton of Baltimore, Md., executive secretary of the Railroads provided the backbone of the Monday market which was quite irregular but edged ahead on average. Railroads again provided strength on Tuesday, and the market responded much better. Early on Wednesday, the railroads pulled the market higher, but a late sell-off depressed the market slightly on average. On the final two days of the week, the market made moderate advances into new high ground with the rails again in a prominent position.

Campaign Started Showing Needs for Working Papers

The State Labor and Education Departments have begun a card-and poster campaign to bring to youngsters and parents the requirements for working papers as they affect a variety of employment possibilities. During the summer season a large number of teen-agers seek employment and need working papers.

According to the law, children under 14 may work only as newspaper carriers or on home farms. Children 14 and 15 years of age must obtain farm work permits for agricultural work, vacation work permits for non-farm employment and a street trades badge for work as a bootblack or selling newspapers in public places.

Work Hours Vary

No child under 16 may work in a factory, and teen-agers under 18 who seek factory employment must be equipped with standard employment certificates.

Regulation as to hours of work vary according to the age of the child and the type of job. To get working papers, young people must have consent of a parent, proof of age and must pass a physical fitness test. For many types of working papers, the signature of a future employer also is required.

Red China Aid

the end of Dien Bien Phu after a magnificent resistance against a vastly outnumbering foe was a Red Chinese victory rather than a Vietnamese victory because of the greatly increased war aid given to the Vietnamese (from neighboring China to the north).

Had New Soviet Weapon

Reliable sources said the Vietnamese used a new Russian weapon during the last hours of the battle. They are called "Stalin organs," consisting of a series of 25 to 30 rockets fired one after another. The rockets burst when they hit the ground. A French officer who had seen their effect in Korea said they were very destructive.

Even at the start of the Dien Bien Phu battle, the French were surprised to find the Vietnamese—previously poor on artillery in the past—heavily equipped with big cannon, 105 mm-rifles and 120 mm-mortars. The great surprise was not only at the number of these weapons, but the new accuracy with which the rebels fired them. This led some to believe the Chinese Communists were participating directly. But official sources said there was no evidence that Red China troops actually were in Indochina.

Dirksen Will . . .

sin that, as far as he is concerned, he is willing to abide by any decision the subcommittee makes on shortening the hearings.

"I would be willing to go on the stand and stay as long as they want to question me," he said. "Anything less than that would not be fair to Stevens."

Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) disclaimed any knowledge of Dirksen's plan. There has been much discomfiture among Republicans, however, with the day-after-day public display of a row between a Republican Senator and a Republican presidential appointee.

MOTHER

Our mother lives on in our memory;
She's one our family always needed
most;
From larksome care she never was quite free;
She ne'er was found away from duty's post.

Now when some worry robs me of my rest,
I feel her gentle hand upon my brow;
What's good for me I still think she knows

And I believe she guides my thoughts somehow.

Where Is Nobody Like Her

It has been said that God could not be everywhere . . . so He made Mothers. And this Sunday . . . on her own special day . . . from the humblest cottage to the greatest Cathedral . . . honor is paid to the Mothers of our Nation.

So we try . . . in a few inadequate words . . . to express all the things that Mother means to us . . . and it is only the magic of a Mother's Love that can understand what we mean when we say simply but sincerely "My Mom . . . there is nobody in the world like her."

High School Track Squad Places First in Triangular Meet

Maroons Score 66 Points; Port Second, Monties 3rd

Miller Wins High-Broad Jumps

Winning seven out of 13 events, Kingston High's track and field forces launched the 1954 campaign with an impressive victory in yesterday's triangular meet with Port Jervis and Monticello at municipal stadium.

The Maroons spotted Port Jervis the first events but rallied to rack up 66 points. Port was second with 53½ and Monticello third with 20½.

Kingston victories were registered in the 100, 220, shotput, pole vault, high jump, senior 440 relay and running broad jump.

Port Jervis took the 120 yard low hurdles, mile, javelin and discus. Monticello settled for the 440 and 880.

Henderson Wins 100

Webster Henderson, the goateed sprinter, beat Charlie Johnson to the tape by two strides in the 100 yard dash but Johnson evened the score with a photo-finish win in the 220 to give Kingston one-two in those events. Carl Modjeska of Kingston was third in the 220. Henderson was clocked in 10.4 and Johnson in 23.5 for the 220.

Bill Engle, the football ace, got off a good heave of 45 feet, 11½ inches to take the shotput, and Ronnie Dittus won the pole vault with a nine foot leap.

Bucky Miller, was a double winner for Kingston, leaping 19 feet 6 inches in the broad jump and 5 feet 7 inches in the high jump. Miller made 19 feet 6 inches on his first try and repeated on the second.

Kingston's crack 440 relay team outclassed the opposition in the excellent time of 46.1 seconds on a heavy track, Henderson, Miller, Charlie Coutant and Johnson comprised the squad.

Bob Freytag of Port Jervis romped home a winner in the 120 low hurdles, three yards ahead of Kingston's Coutant in 22.6 seconds.

The tri-staters also got a first on John Horst's comparatively slow 5:01 mile. Robert Coale of Kingston was fourth. Joe and Dick Beams, the basketball star, won the discus with a toss of 121 feet 7 inches.

Marty Schwartz, another basketball ace, won the 880 for Monticello in 2:09. Don Geiselman gave the Monties their second first with a 56.1 clocking in the 440.

Port Jervis won the Freshman 440 relay in 50.6 seconds, Kingston took second.

The Old Pro Returns

Rhinebeck Speedway's Fred Carlson for Opener

Fred Carlson, a veteran of nearly 20 years in stock and midget car racing, is one of the headliners on tonight's opening card at Rhinebeck Speedway.

Carlson was a headliner and won the hearts of Dutchess county fans nearly 20 years ago when he drove sprint cars over the dirt tracks at Stormville, Amenia and Pine Plains.

Carlson's victories were countless as well as sensational and at one time the Ossining lad was considered a candidate for Indianapolis.

Now 41 years old, Carlson is making a successful comeback with a stock car of his own design. He sports the same number "15" that carried him to victory many years ago.

Crack Field Listed

Opposing the fleet Carlson will be one of the largest fields ever to invade the Rhinebeck oval. Among the entries are Stan Disbrow, Doug Garrison, Ken Gootermote, Huck Spaulding, Hal McCarty, Bob Devine, Bill Secor, Emil Revoir, Don Gardner, and other Rhinebeck favorites.

Three classes of stocks will compete—high-powered modified cars, sportsman's type and a special 30-lap event for the non-Ford strictly stock type cars. The program gets under way earlier than in former years, at 8:15 p. m., with more than 100 laps of racing scheduled.

Williams Returns to Sox Bench; Redlegs Take Lead in National

By BEN PHLEGAR

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Boston Red Sox could feel a little easier today about picking up their paychecks. They knew they were back working for a living.

When the Bostonians outlasted Washington 7-6 last night it marked their first victory in two weeks and their first official action of any kind since a week ago today. Bad weather has caused eight postponements in Boston so far.

The Red Sox took advantage of the occasion to celebrate. The victory lifted them out of the American League cellar over Baltimore into seventh place. They blasted three home runs in the first inning, their first in nine days, and they scored more runs than in any previous game.

Williams on Bench

But one of the Red Sox's best reasons for feeling happier about life was the presence of Ted Williams on the Boston bench.

The slugger, who broke his collarbone on the first day of spring training, is working himself into shape and will make the club's first western swing starting Tuesday in Chicago.

Williams isn't quite ready for action, but Manager Lou Boudreau said he expected him to see pinch hit action shortly.

Last night Sammy White's three-run homer in the third inning helped Boston into a 7-0 lead and the Senators just failed to catch up.

Rookie Truman Clevenger, making his first major league start, doled out one hit in the first five innings. Ellis Kider bailed him out in the sixth after a pair of two-run homers by Jim Busby and Clyde Vollmer. Roy Sievers hit another two-run homer off Kinder in the seventh.

Reds Grab Lead

Cincinnati took over first place from Philadelphia in the National League. The Redlegs swamped St. Louis 10-4 while the Phils were bowing to Brooklyn 3-1. Chicago beat Milwaukee 3-0. The New York Giants were rained out at Pittsburgh.

In the only other American League action the New York Yankees won their second straight shutout, this one by Tom Morgan, as they beat Philadelphia 2-0 on successive home runs in the yard dash in 11.2 and the broad jump with 17.6 feet. Tri-Valley had other winners in McNamara in the shotput and McCoy in the 220.

The summaries:

100 yards—Won by Aber (TV); second, Valand (O); third, Valand (O). Time—11.2.

Sixteen Teams To Compete in Two Divisions

1954 Opener Set For Monday, May 17

The sixteen team City Softball League will play a conference type schedule starting Monday, May 17, league director Andy Murphy said today.

The league will be split in two divisions, known as the American and National and the winners of the Shaughnessy playoffs in each group will compete in a little World Series for the city softball title.

Teams entered in the 1954 grind are: Chez Emile, formerly Hilltop; Subway Grill, Alpine, Beichert's, Cherny's, Rapp's Express (formerly Sicker's Delivery).

Also, Lincoln Park Inn, Electrol, Hercules, Skyline, Gene's Bar and Grill, Perry's, Kaplan Bag Co., Ben's Grill, Destroyer A. C., Cedar Rest.

Meet Every Team

Under the conference-type schedule, each team in a division plays the other two games and then meets the teams from the other league once. In this manner every one of the 16 teams meets the other at least once.

Shaughnessy playoffs are scheduled in September for the top four teams in each division.

Games will be played on Monday and Wednesday evenings at seven different fields. The Hercules diamond at Port Jervis will be available to the league this year through arrangements made by Edmund P. Rochford of the Hercules Company.

Other diamonds to be used by the league include upper and lower at Hasbrouck Park, Block, St. Mary's, Forsyth and the Athletic Field on occasions.

Pencil leads today are made in 18 different degrees of hardness.

It's funny how some people won't walk under a ladder and are frightened if a black cat crosses in front of them, but think nothing of dashing across a traffic-crowded street in the middle of a block and with the light set against them.

Why We Say-- JALOPY

The expression jalopy for an automobile started in the 1900's. Because of a shortage of autos in Mexico, many old ones shipped to Jalapa, Mexico for resale, thus the corrupted term "jalopy" arose for an old automobile.

To Mother
Many's the time I've tried to say,
Over and over in a different way,
The love I feel, and nearness,
too--
Heaven only knows how much I do!
Ever faithful your affection for me,
Richness you've added so plentifully,
Devotion unending you always give,
Enlarging the joy of the life I live.
Attentive, yes, to my every desire,
Revealing beauty and ideals that inspire.

"Now try squawking about the light bothering you!"

The boss was having a busy morning, but he welcomed the interruption of his secretary.
Secretary—There's a lady salesman in the reception room who wants to see you.
Boss—Well, Hawkins, don't stand there with that rapid look on your face. Tell the gentleman to come in and bring his samples with him.
Zoo Attendant—What animal would you like to see, little boy?
Little Boy—A wild bear.
Zoo Attendant—Well we don't have any wild bears in the zoo, but I can show you a plain bear and initiate him for you.

Racing Resumes At Yonkers Raceway After 24-Hour Strike

Yonkers, May 8 (AP)—Harness racing resumed last night at Yonkers Raceway when horse owners and the management of the fabulous metropolitan trotting establishment agreed to an increased purse distribution after a 24-hour strike that closed down the plant Thursday.

Yonkers agreed to distribute 32 per cent of the track's pari-mutuel share to horsemen in purses, a compromise for both sides. The track, which had been giving 25 per cent since the meeting opened April 12, had offered 30 per cent. The Standardbred Owners Association, however, had demanded 40 per cent.

In addition purses will be sweetened by $22,712.65 over the final two weeks of the meeting. There was no break-down of this figure. It is believed, however, to be the amount horsemen lost when the racing was called off Thursday night after several days of fruitless negotiation.

New Paltz Nine Trips Waterbury In Ninth, 8-7

New Paltz State Teachers went gunning for its third straight baseball victory today at the Ulster diamond, having nosed out Waterbury Teachers, 8 to 7, Thursday.

Two runs scored without the benefit of hit in the bottom of the seventh enabled Coach Campbell's Orange and Blue to nose out the Nutmeggers.

Waterbury broke a 6-6 tie with a single marker off Dick King in the top of the seventh but New Paltz rallied for two and the game on two passed balls and an error.

With two outs and a runner on third, Cummings hit a dribbler to third where Deilux threw over the first baseman's head to wind up the game.

King Is Winner
Dick King, who relieved starter Ronnie Foster during a four-run Waterbury rally in the sixth, was credited with the victory. He fanned six and Foster added seven more strikeouts victims.

Waterbury out-hit the Ulsterites, 13 to 9, and pitcher Ed Siebert rammed three singles. He walked four and fanned five.

Rubio and Wulf each had two hits for New Paltz and Foster and Wulf cracked doubles. Cavanaugh, Sagerino and Rice collected two safeties apiece for Waterbury.

Harman said the plan to change the team name was motivated, in part, by the failure of the City League to reorganize. (A City League meeting is scheduled Monday, however).

"As long as our schedule will be mostly traveling games," said Harman, "the word Kingston will appear somewhere in the new name. Kingston is big enough for two teams and the name should be used."

This was a reference, of course, to Fred Davi's Kingston Colonials who will play a regular night schedule at municipal stadium.

Jack Burke's 63 Is Career Low

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., May 8 (AP)—Jack Burke Jr. feels he finally got that one hot round in the Greenbrier Open he needs to win his first tournament this year.

The 63 he shot yesterday was his best in the seven years he's been a professional tourney competitor and gave him a three-stroke lead with 131 for half of the 72 holes.

Burke putted his way past Joe Taylor of Charleston, W. Va., the first round leader with 65 who went up to 69 on his second trip around.

Sam Snead's hopes of winning the Greenbrier for the fourth straight time took a dip when he took 71 after an opening 66 and fell to fourth place.

George Fazio of Pine Valley, N. J., took over third place with rounds of 70 and 66 for a 136 total.

Regina Squad Hits 2438 for New High In Central Women

Led by Trude Reis' 516 slam, the Regina's set a new Central Rec Women's League high of 2438 Thursday.

Other contributors to the new mark were Jessie Burnett with 506, Mae McCaffrey 457, Marcia Clark 462 and Reta Frederick 497.

Dot Rawding's 542 (190-191-161) was high triple for the night.

Kayo Victory Assures Lause Steady Work

New York, May 8 (AP)—Eduardo Lause, a sensational knockout winner over Cuban Chico Varona, looks like a sure fire bet to get steady work in the United States.

The darkly scowling Argentine showed a stiff left hook in stopping the busy Cuban in 2:43 of the seventh round last night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Varona's manager, Bobby Gleason, complained about an excess of medication smeared on a cut over Lause's right eye but Chico admitted he never got hit by a better punch.

It was the 16th straight victory for Lause, 15 of them by knockouts. His fine record since he turned pro in 1948 is 48-5-2 for 55 bouts with 39 knockouts.

Lause hasn't lost since he was beaten by Kid Gavilan in a non-title bout in Buenos Aires, Sept. 13, 1932, before 20,000 of his home town fans.

Lause, at 156½, had a solid weight advantage on the 150-pound Varona who actually is a welterweight, the champ of Cuba in the 147-pound division.

Originally, a boulevard meant a cleared space provided for mounting artillery, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

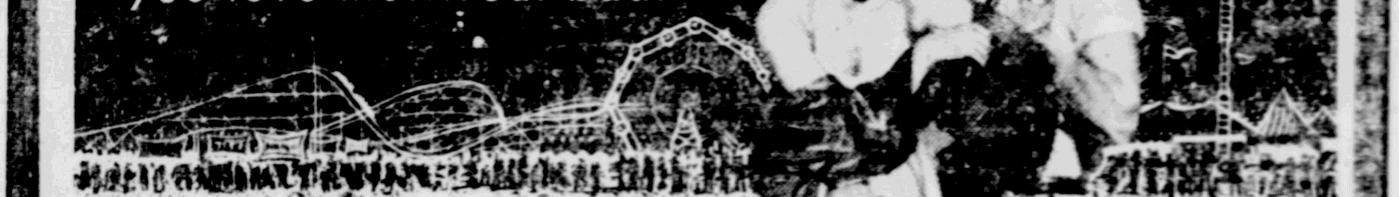

Holland annually exports about 3,000,000,000 tulip, crocus, daffodil, hyacinth, and other bulbs.

The first permanent theatre built in America was erected in Philadelphia in 1766.

Saugerties

Co-Chairmen Named For VFW Poppy Drive

Saugerties, May 7—Commander Bernard E. McCutcheon of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has named Mrs. John J. Wood Sr. and Emil De Long as co-chairmen of the 1954 Buddy Poppy campaign slated for Friday and Saturday, May 14 and 15.

The co-chairmen stressed that funds go to the VFW National Home for widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich. and to the local post to help needy and disabled veterans and their dependents.

Mayor George P. Holmes purchased the first poppy this week from Jacqueline Barbara Utter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Utter.

VFW Post Given Community Award

Saugerties, May 8—The Saugerties Memorial Post, 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has been designated as third prize winner of the 1953-54 Community Service Contest engraved plaque.

The honor was made known in a letter directed to Leroy Lewis, commander of Saugerties Post during the period for which the award was earned.

The award was based on the strength of the work accomplished by the post and the auxiliary in their many community projects.

St. Paul's Council

Saugerties, May 8—The Council of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of West Camp held its annual election of church officers Wednesday night at the Pine Rooms.

All incumbent officers were re-elected: Nelson Burhans, lay president; Herman Knaust, secretary; Mrs. Le Roy Potts, assistant secretary; Charles Stewart, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Knaust, financial secretary; and Herbert Psyher, benevolence treasurer.

The Rev. Henry M. Schumann, pastor, presided and speaking for the council members welcomed Vernon Asher who was elected to the council at a recent meeting of the congregation.

Installation services will be held May 16.

It was reported that a committee for the German Interest Group headed by Nickalus Jacobson have taken on the project of painting the parsonage.

Scout News

Explorer Trip

Saugerties, May 8—The Explorer Scout program for May provides another interesting excursion which is available to all Explorer Scouts in the council.

The program includes a trip to Mystic Seaport at Mystic, Conn. on the weekend of May 22 and 23. The boys making the trip will live on a real square rigger now tied to a dock at the seaport.

Wednesday, May 12, is the deadline for reservations which must be made direct to the council office at 260 Fair street, Kingston. The bus from Saugerties leaves Saturday, May 22 at 7 a. m.

Work Party

Francis W. Teel, field scout executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced that a council work party will be held at Camp Tri-mount May 15 and 16 for the opening on July 1. The council office would appreciate knowing the number who intend joining the work party in order that meals may be provided. In addition Mr. Teel announced that all Scouts who have their camp applications in by May 15 will receive a free T-shirt.

Meeting Slate

Boy Scout Troop 32, Altonement Lutheran Church will meet in the church meeting rooms Monday, at 7 p. m.

Boy Scout Troop 33, Malden-West Camp and Explorer Post 130 will meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the West Camp parish hall.

Boy Scout Troop 35, Glasco will meet in St. Joseph's Church Hall in Glasco at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday.

Boy Scout Troop 36, St. Mary's Church will meet Tuesday at 7:15 p. m. at St. Mary's School.

A special organizational meeting for the purpose of establishing a new Cub Pack in the Malden-West Camp area will be held Wednesday at 8 p. m. in the Malden Methodist Church Sunday school room. All interested parents and leaders are urged to attend this session.

Boy Scout Troop 37, Quarryville will meet Wednesday at 7 p. m. in the Quarryville Dartball hall.

RADIOACTIVE CORN-GROWING—Circular patch in the air view above is a radioactive cornfield. It's an experimental plot at the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven National Laboratory at Upton, N. Y. Purpose of the experiment is to determine the effect atomic energy can have on various types of vegetation. In center of the circular field is a pipe, containing a bar of radioactive cobalt 60, which sprays out gamma rays. The pipe can be raised or lowered to spray more or less area as desired. Thus effect of the radioactive spray at close quarters and from a distance can be accurately gauged. It is controlled from a station in one corner of the large, rectangular field. The plants are grown in circular rows so that there will be even distribution of measurement. It was found that radiation produced shorter plants (inset contrasts these with normal taller-than-man corn) but possibly of a higher yield because of greater grain ratio.

Report on Communism

Washington, May 8 (AP)—A Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee says Communists have wormed their way into Argentina's organized labor and press and "could probably cause serious trouble in event of a political crisis." A report said communism still is strong at the polls in France and Italy and is a great danger to Guatemala, but is on the downgrade in most of the free world. The report made an interesting point: That proportionate growth of Communist party membership is not as great in Russia as it is in some other places.
